

Observation & Feedback

An opportunity for you to be observed by an M² faculty member during an educational program you are facilitating and receive feedback after the program

When does this opportunity launch?

March 8th, 2021

What is the structure and who is involved?

This is a three-part process with an M² faculty member comprised of an intake conversation, the observation itself, and a post-observation debrief. There will be two application rounds: Spring for programs taking place April-June, and Summer for programs taking place July-September

How much does this cost?

We are happy to provide this opportunity to SEC alumni free charge

What are possible outcomes from Observation & Feedback?

- Insights about the utility of M²'s educational approach
- Personalized performance-based feedback on your facilitation
- Increased confidence in your work as an educator

How do I sign up?

There are two rounds of applications with very limited spots available. Complete an application (~20 minutes) for either the Spring or Summer round. Upon completing the form, we will connect you with an M² faculty member
