

A Guide to Successful Collaboration

This tool allows for collaboration that is active, rather than reactive. It is intended to be used by two or more partners who are seeking to intentionally support one another in achieving a common goal for a specific initiative. This purposeful collaboration tool encourages each party to contribute their own resources and strengths while focusing on the benefit to the end-user, advancing the individual mission of each partner.

Partnership Search

Individual Goal Setting

Collective Goal Setting

Identifying Strengths and Challenges

Establishment of Working Norms

Roles and Responsibilities

Timeline

Evaluation of Project Success